

Updated ARC Information for Remote Learning Families

As we prepare to transition our in-person cohorts to a full-day on-campus schedule, we have adjusted the ARC schedule for all of our learners. One change is having in-person students meet with only one ARC teacher each week. This is a safety decision, as it will limit the contact that our ARC teachers have with various cohorts of students in a given week.

This adjustment will also impact how ARC will be scheduled for our remote students. As you can see in the attached schedule, your child will have five ARC opportunities with a teacher each week. Four of those experiences will be in live sessions, and the fifth will be in a recorded session that students will be able to access by Wednesday of each week.

Our ARC team looks forward to continuing to work with your child, and we appreciate you for reminding them to make ARC a part of their learning each day.
